E. H. Funston.

(From the Yates Center News.)

On Saturday last we received a pleasant call from Hon. E. H. Funston, of Carlyle, Allen county. As we have before stated Mr. Funston is State Senator from that district and we miss our guess if he does not make things lively for somebody as a candidate for Congressman-at-large. Why not? Has the State any more able or trustworthy material? or men who would labor more zealously or unremittingly for the interests of the State or their constituency than he? We doubt it. Already the professions are well represented in the delegation from this State, as they always will be, then why not, to complete our increased representation in Congress, select one at least, from the masses of the people—an intelligent, cultivated, educated farmer? Mr. Funston, during his fourteen years' residence in this State has filled several positions of trust and profit, in all of which he has acquitted himself in a very satisfactory manner. He will go into the convention the first or second choice of almost every county in southeastern Kansas, and no doubt, enjoying, as he does, a State reputation, will draw to him support from all portions of the State. We shall watch the situation carefully and endeavor to keep our readers posted in regard thereto.

Read the endorsement of Hon. E. H. Funston by a prominent citizen of this county. It comes from an old neighbor and intimate associate of Mr. Funston and we gladly give it space. It is said that straws lying across the road are not infallible signs of a duck's nest, yet expressions of this nature coming from one who has known a man intimately for years are a pretty good index to his private character. If there is a man in Kansas who can say aught against the private or public acts of Ed. Funston let him rise and explain or forever afterward hold his peace. Who speaks first?

Editor News:—Having seen the name of E. H. Funston, of Allen county, mentioned as a candidate for congressman-at-large, I desire to say through the News to the people of Woodson county in regard to him. Having lived eight years a neighbor to him I know whereof I speak when I say that at his own home among his neighbors, he is universally respected and is known as an honest, upright citizen, genial, social and pleasant, always ready to lend a helping hand. Mr. Funston is a farmer and a practical one; has gone through the fire and fought the fight that none other but Kansas understand, and has built up for himself and his excellent family a very pleasant and beautiful home. Allen county, alive to her interests, elected him for three consecutive terms to represent her in the State legislature; was elected the last term speaker of the house. He is a man whose public and private record is without a blemish; of good sound judgment; a ready debater; and of sound Republican principles. Being a farmer and laboring man he will surely look after the interest of this class.

J. M. DICKERSON.
Toronto, Ks., May 8.

A Congressman.

The battle for four congressman-at-large has fairly opened, and the fight promises to be interesting. There is a host of candidates, and among them we recognize some good material like Sluss, Hanback, Peters, Simons, Morrill, and others, and there promises to be no dearth of eligible applicants. We are not conveniently located, so to speak, in the great maw of the Third District, but we have just as good material as any other section, and are in favor of bringing out one of our own men for the position. Mr. Funston, of Allen, is a candidate, and an excellent gentleman, and should he receive the nomination would make a Congressman Southern Kansas would be proud of, but we believe first in helping ourselves. A large number of our people have urged us to endorse Hon. A. M. F. Randolph for the position. We do so without consulting him, and trust a delegation will be made up with this object in view. Of his pre-eminent fitness for the position there is no question, and he is the peer of any gentleman who has been mentioned in connection with this place. His Republicanism is of the stalwart kind, he is capable, honest upright and fearless in the discharge of his duty, and his scholarship attainments and trained mind fit him admirably for such work. The Republican party of Kansas in honoring such men as Randolph will simply honor itself, and command the support of the best element of the country. What say the Republicans of this county to giving him a solid delegation at the State Convention?—Burlington Patriot.

Hon. E. H. Funston, of Carlyle, Allen county, state senator for the Allen-Anderson-Woodson district was over here last week, interviewing our people and asking their support for himself as a candidate for Congressman-at-large. Mr. Funston is a very worthy man, and has had considerable legislative experience. Should he be successful in securing the coveted position we have no doubt he would prove faithful in looking after the interests of his constituents. He has the united support of Allen and Anderson counties, and we believe his nomination would be entirely satisfactory to the Republicans of Woodson.—Yates Center Argus.

Life's a Conundrum.

When judiciously used, Burdock Blood Bitters are in themselves a remedy for all the evils arising from impurities of the blood, which never fail to make the patient long-lived and happy. Price $1.00, for sale by R. B. Stevenson.

Too Many Candidates.

The Iola Register is for Senator E. H. Funston for congressman-at-large. Mr. Funston is a farmer and has represented Allen county three terms in the House of representatives, one term as Speaker of the House. At present he is a member of the Senate and President pro tem. In addition he has served upon the State Central Committee and in many ways threw his power into the canvass of the State.

—Lawrence Journal.
Mr. Funston is unquestionably a man of parts. His section of the State is entitled to one of the four Congressmen to be elected at large this year, and with his character and political record the ex-Speaker will undoubtedly make a strong showing in the Convention for nomination. It is unfortunate so many good men are presenting themselves for Congress in the southeastern portion of the State. Perkins, Simons, Funston and Waters all hail from the southeast corner of the State, and will be in each others' way at Topeka on the 28th of June, unless there is a modification of somebody's ambition before that time.—Paola Spirit.

Hon. E. H. Funston.

We are pleased to learn that the Hon. E. H. Funston, of Allen county, in the Second district is being strongly urged as a candidate for congressman at large. Mr. Funston has served through several sessions of the legislature, and has been speaker of the house of representatives. He is, at the present time, state senator. If he should be elected to congress he would make one of the most active, energetic, able and efficient members in our delegation.—Emporia Daily Republican.

A Farmer for Congress.

Among the many candidates for congress now before the people, only one of them is a farmer—a practical, hard working farmer. He is a sensible, upright man, acquainted with public business, and would be no cipher at Washington. We know him well, and hope the good people will consider his candidacy favorably.

—Kansas Farmer.
The Patriot nominates Hon. A. M. F. Randolph for Congressman-at-large. While we do not seek to detract from the merits of any man whose ambition might induce him to take up his residence in the National capitol for the benefit of the dear people, yet we insist that this multiplying candidates can be productive of no good results. True, every county of respectable pretensions has some favorite son, preeminently qualified to look after the interests of his particular locality, except "Old mother Woodson" who is unalterably identified with the political prospects of Hon. E. H. Funston, of Allen county, the farmers' and laborers' candidate upon whose fair name the most powerful magnifying glass ever constructed would fail to find a blemish.—Yates Center News.

E. H. Funston, of Allen county, may want something at Ottawa. If he does, "Dud" will not have a walk over.—Paola Times.

Mr. Funston will not ask for anything at the above convention but we have no doubt but that he would be pleased to have the support of the Miami county delegation at Topeka, as a candidate for congressman-at-large.

Major Morrill is not a candidate for Governor, but is for congress, and will be nominated and elected.—Hawatha World.

There can be no question as to his ability and integrity, and he will doubtless have hosts of friends all over Kansas who will take a just pride in pushing his claims. Maj. Morrill is a clear headed, first grade man in every respect.

Mr. C. H. Malin and son, late of Pittsburgh, Pa., arrived in town today. Mr. Malin is visiting Wilson county with a view of investing in some improved farms in the interest of immigration as well as personal investment. He speaks very highly of the Verdigris valley, and will spend some time investigating the character of the land and prices, as well as the general outlook of the county.—Wilson County Citizen.

Messrs. Perkins, Funston, Simons and Waters are the four candidates for congress from the south-east. W. P. Hackney, of Cowley; Col. Woods, of Sumner; H. C. Sluss, of Sedgewick; S. R. Peters, of Harvey, and H. B. Kelley, of McPherson, candidates for congress from the south-west, live in adjoining counties.—Topeka Commonwealth.

The Iola Register brings out Hon. E. H. Funston, of Allen county, as a candidate for congressman at large. Mr. Funston has represented Allen county three times in the Legislature, and served one term as speaker of the House, and is a man of more than average ability.—Neodesha Free Press.

Wm. McCartney, 88 Lloyd Street, Buffalo N. Y. fell and sprained his ankle. His employer, H. Anderson, 94 Main Street, procured some Thomas' Electric Oil, and he says that a few applications enabled him to go to work as usual. For sale by R. B. Stevenson.

The Clay Center Dispatch endorses the candidacy of Hon. E. H. Funston, of Allen county, for congress, and calls attention to the fact that it nominated Funston a year or more ago.—Topeka Capital.
